

Gloves Are Off In Sigler And Williams Bout

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan's political campaign swept turbulently toward its Nov. 2 election climax today.

Governor Sigler and G. Mennen Williams ripped the gloves off again in their gubernatorial battle.

At the same time the Democrats indicated an all-out, last minute drive to win on both state and national tickets in Michigan.

The assistance of the national administration in the Michigan fight was evidently part of the Democratic strategy.

A big Williams rally Tuesday night in Grand Rapids was marked both by a torchlight parade and the presence of John W. Gibson and Wilson Wyatt.

Gibson, assistant secretary of labor, and Wyatt, former federal housing administrator, shared the rostrum with Williams.

Meanwhile, the congressional hearings into Democratic campaign collections were set to open tomorrow morning in Detroit.

The hearings will be into Republican charges that intimidation was practiced on postmasters to force contributions from them.

Counsel for two congressional groups—the House campaign expenditures committee and the House post office and civil service committee—said between 20 and 30 witnesses would be heard.

It was not stated whether Democratic State Chairman John R. Franco, against whom the charges were laid, would be called to testify. Franco has denied the charges.

For the space of a day Grand Rapids was Michigan's political center Tuesday.

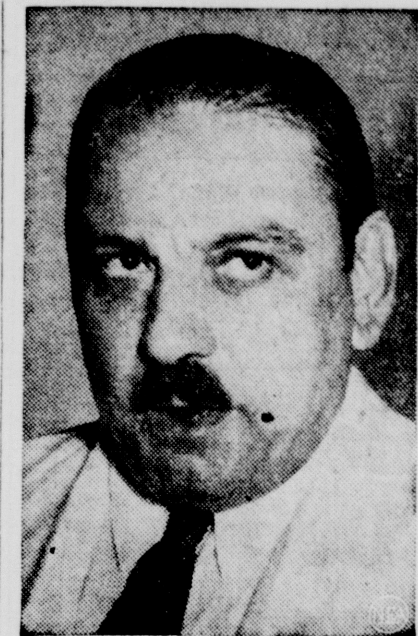

Sigler and Williams invaded the Western Michigan city simultaneously in drives aimed at both the farmer's and industrial worker's vote.

Their clash was bitter in spots. Sigler called Williams a "hand-picked" candidate of the CIO and accused the Democrats of trying to falsify his (Sigler's) position on issues.

For his part Williams blasted again at Sigler's policies in office, charging the administration failed to "command the respect of its own members."

Sigler spoke at a Lions club noon luncheon. Williams at an outdoor crowd at Fulton park at night.

The Williams parade, loud with sound trucks and placards, traveled a half mile through the city.

First Break Comes In Coast Oil Strike

Shell Plant Settles With Refinery Workers

Los Angeles, Oct. 27 (AP)—The first break in the 53-day oil West Coast strike came last night. President O. A. Knight of the CIO Oil Workers Union said an agreement had been reached with the Shell Chemical Co. plant at Martinez, Calif.

The membership of Union Local 5 at Martinez—in the San Francisco area—approved the agreement, Knight said. The contract is scheduled to be signed today and some 400 workers will return to work at noon.

The shell Chemical Co. is a subsidiary of Shell Oil. The agreement, however, covers only the one plant.

Terms of the settlement, Knight disclosed, include a 12 1/2 cent increase above the basic $1.68, return of all striking employees without discrimination and dismissal of all damage suits filed by the company.

The CIO oil workers struck the six major California refineries Sept. 4 in a demand for a 21 1/2-cent an hour wage increase above the basic $1.68. The union has indicated a willingness to accept the employers' offer of 12 1/2 cents, but one stumbling block has been the companies' refusal to take back strikers accused of violence.

France Threatened By General Sitdown

Communists Organize For Big Labor Tieup

By ROBERT C. WILSON

Paris, Oct. 27 (AP)—French Communists threatened today to organize a general sit-down strike in northern France in support of a nation-wide coal miners' strike.

Top leaders of the Communist General Labor Federation (CGT) decided last night to issue the threat. They met at Lille, a key mining center which government strike-fighting troops and police have not yet entered.

CGT leaders said they would pull the sit-down strike if the government "increased its repressive measures."

At least 30,000 troops and police are concentrated in the northern coal fields east of Lille. During the strike, now in its fourth week, these shock troops have seized struck mines in danger of serious damage from flooding and fire damp.

Government measures against the strike, which has cost France more than 3,000,000 tons of coal, shifted to the fields in southern France yesterday when soldiers and police seized four mines. A striker was killed in a clash between opposing forces. The government, claiming the strikers fired first, sent tanks into action against them.

Buses Roll Again In New York City

CIO Driver Strike

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—Some of the 8,500 CIO workers who staged the biggest surface transit strike in New York City's history started their buses rolling early today.

Revolt of a rank-and-file group against their international union chief, however, left the over-all effects of a back-to-work order uncertain.

Drivers and other transit workers—demonstrating against the State Public Service Commission and not against their employers—halted seven privately-owned bus and trolley systems that carry 3,500,000 passengers a day.

The walkout began yesterday at 9 a. m. (EST) and continued to tie up the lines despite a union order to return to work yesterday afternoon after a four-hour demonstration for back pay.

One of the transit systems, the New York City Omnibus Corporation, reported a number of buses left its garages starting shortly after 1 a. m. today.

Some of the struck lines do not operate during the early morning hours, and the results of the back-to-work movement could not be known until the rush-hour near.

Nurse Reads Phone Directory, Arouses Victim Of Amnesia

Philadelphia, Oct. 27 (AP)—A 50-year-old man, suffering from amnesia, was identified through the efforts of an ex-army nurse who spent two days reading a telephone directory to him.

James Mc Menamin of Bristol, Pa., yesterday recognized the name of his brother, John J. Mc Menamin, when it was read to him by Margaret Kaye, a social service worker.

Miss Kaye, who worked with amnesia cases as an army nurse in World War One, volunteered to read the telephone book to Mc Menamin on Sunday in hopes it would stir some memory. When she reached Mc Menamin's own surname, he sat up suddenly.

"Why, that's my brother," he said.

Restaurant Willed To Friendly Barber

Camden, N. J., Oct. 27 (AP)—An act of kindness 44 years ago paid off for a barber today in the form of a restaurant and the bulk of an estate valued at more than $20,000.

Filing of the will of Charles Marion, Camden cafe owner and sportsman, disclosed yesterday he had left the restaurant and estate to "my good friend through life," Pasquale (Pat) Iarossi.

Friends said Iarossi gave Marion a home when he arrived in Camden 44 years ago from his native Chicago. Marion never forgot the generosity of his barber friend even after becoming one of southern New Jersey's most successful cafe owners.

Marion, who died at the age of 62 last week, reportedly turned down an offer of $90,000 for the restaurant in Camden. The restaurant, closed since Marion's death, was reopened yesterday.

Band Leader Works At Washing Cars, Fights Alcoholism

Beverly Hills, Calif., Oct. 27 (AP)—Hal Grayson, once one of the nation's top band leaders, pleaded guilty to four counts of drunkenness and begged for a chance to rehabilitate himself.

He told the court yesterday he has joined Alcoholics Anonymous and is trying to get money to go to New York and work. It was learned he had a job here washing cars.

Justice Henry H. Draeger allowed Grayson freedom on $950 bail so he could work—until his probation and sentence hearing next Wednesday.

Saginaw (AP)—Net profits from Saginaw's new water system should easily meet payments on the city's $4,800,000 water bond issue through 1953. City Manager Carl H. Peterson reported.

Voter Polls Called Fake By Truman

By the Associated Press

President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey drew farther apart by the hour today as the Democratic contender headed for Boston and his Republican rival for Cleveland.

Not only miles but widening differences of opinion separated the two presidential candidates as they battled down the home stretch of the campaign.

Dewey told a packed Chicago stadium audience last night that the Truman administration had fallen to a "new low of mud-slinging."

Mr. Truman meanwhile was telling a Cleveland rally that Dewey was standing on a "record of false promises" compiled by the 80th Congress and previous Republican administrations.

Mr. Truman lit into the Wallace party in yesterday's campaigning across Ohio. He said the Communists are backing the Progressives in hopes of taking enough votes from the Democrats to swing next week's election to the Republicans.

Full of Promises

"The Communists believe that a Republican victory means a weak United States," he said. "And that is exactly what I think—we're together on that."

"But I am going to beat them and there won't be a weak United States," he added.

Then, taking a jibe at national polls showing Dewey in the lead, Mr. Truman said the "poll-happy" Republicans have "rigged" the sampling of voters' opinions.

"Doctor" Dewey, he said, is prescribing "sleeping pills" intended to "lull the voters into sleeping on election day."

Mr. Truman said that in the 1944 campaign the Republicans had another poll that looked mighty promising then for Dewey. But "the promise was all he got. In fact, he has been full of promises ever since."

War Crimes Court Frees Hitler Staff

Military Leaders Found Innocent Of Plotting

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 27 (AP)—An American war crimes court today acquitted 13 of Adolf Hitler's top military commanders of plotting to launch World War II.

The three-man court, completing the nine-months trial of three field marshals, five generals, one admiral and four lieutenant-generals, ruled they had not been German policy makers.

The judgment said "the acts of commanders and staff officers below policy level in planning campaigns, preparing means for carrying them out, moving against a country on orders and fighting a war after it has been instituted, do not constitute the planning, preparation, initiation and waging of war or the initiation of an invasion that international law denounces as criminal."

Lansing Bus Travel Tied Up By Strike

Drivers And Mechanics Idle In Pay Dispute

Lansing, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bus drivers went on strike in the capital city today, leaving 100,000 residents of greater Lansing without public transportation.

AFL drivers, joined in the walkout by mechanics, refused to move their buses out of the Inter-City Coach Lines Co. garage in a wage dispute.

It was the third transport workers strike in a major Michigan city.

An AFL drivers union has been on strike in Muskegon since last Saturday. In Flint a CIO union of drivers has been striking for weeks.

Altogether, the bus lines of the three cities serve a total population in the neighborhood of 350,000 persons.

In Lansing the strike followed a failure of last-minute efforts at an agreement.

The union has been asking for a 25 cent boost for drivers and 20 cents for mechanics. The company offered an eight cent boost, four cents contingent on the rate increase.

The current scale has a $1.15 an hour top for drivers and $1.30 top for mechanics with time and one-half for overtime.

Soldier Son Found By Seattle Father After Long Search

Camp Breckinridge, Ky., Oct. 7 (AP)—Henry Edelson's two and a half year nationwide search for his 18-year-old soldier son came to a happy ending in an Army camp here yesterday.

The 40 year old Seattle grocer and his missing son, Danny, embraced and the youth wept unashamedly upon his father's shoulder.

The reunion between Edelson and his son, who had enlisted at Chicago when he was 16 after running away from home, was in the office of Chaplain Lyle Bartholomew. Young Edelson, who had taken the name of "Darrell Dane," had not been told his father was in the camp where he had been stationed for five months after serving 14 months in Korea.

Prayers For Peace

Kalamazoo (AP)—Students of Nazareth college have offered prayers for peace and for the conversion of the Russian people at special ceremonies held here.

Sigler's Pet Economic Office Called Useless

Lansing, Oct. 27 (AP)—One of Governor Sigler's pet government reorganization—threatened today to swallow up another of his pet—the new state department of economic development.

A sub-committee of Sigler's legislative committee on governmental reorganization recommended that the economic development department be abolished.

The department was one of Sigler's big campaign promises in 1946. He predicted a great future for it.

But the committee said it was just as useless as the state planning commission, which it succeeded. Committee members considered

Gov. Dewey Lines Up Sharper Attack On Sad Truman Record

Chicago Throng Cheers GOP Candidate

BY JACK BELL

En route with Dewey to Cleveland, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was reported preparing today a sharp new attack on what he called the "sad record" of Truman administration foreign policy.

The Republican presidential nominee showed a new willingness to slug it out with the Democrats as he traveled toward Cleveland and a major campaign speech there tonight.

He kept secret the subject of his talk—to be broadcast from 9 to 9:30 p. m. (EST). But Dewey was expected to rip into the president as he did in Chicago last night.

Stadium Overflows

Without mentioning Mr. Truman's name, the New York governor told a cheering, handkerchief-waving throng which overflowed the 24,000 seat Chicago stadium that the Democrats had descended to "mud slinging."

Then he laid the groundwork for a future counter-attack on the foreign front.

He asserted that the Truman administration has "failed to win the peace."

"Instead," he declared, "millions upon millions of people have been delivered into Soviet slavery while our administration has tried appeasement on one day and bluster on the next."

"Our country desperately needs new and better leadership in the cause of peace and freedom."

"It needs a government that will lead from strength to build peace in the world so that your sons and mine will not have to go through another war."

Crowd Warms Up

The crowd, warmed up before Dewey's appearance by comedian Ole Olson, and instructed by him to wave its handkerchiefs, responded lustily throughout the Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The General Electric, which has an exclusive collective bargaining contract with U. E.

The suit filed in U. S. district court here yesterday by U. E. President Albert J. Fitzgerald and the head of U. E.'s Schenectady local said the commission's ban would mean "irreparable" injury to U. E.'s 600,000 members. It asked the court to issue an injunction forbidding the commission or the company from disturbing the union's exclusive bargaining rights for all G. E. workers.

Named as defendants besides the commission itself were Chairman David E. Lilienthal and other members, and the General Electric company.

No Defense Lawyer In Phone Rate Suit

Lansing, Oct. 27 (AP)—Unable to get legal assistance from the attorney general's office, the State Public Service Commission may go into the supreme court without an attorney to defend its position on an $8,200,000 Michigan Bell Telephone Co. rate increase.

Stuart B. White, commission chairman and Republican candidate to succeed Attorney General Eugene F. Black, said that the commission was considering "throwing itself on the mercy of the court."

Black withdrew the commission's legal aides and is opposing the granting of the rate increase.

White declared that he did not intend "to enter a letter-writing contest with Mr. Black."

White said the commission was thinking of preparing a statement to the supreme court pointing out that the commission was like a defendant whose attorney had switched to the other side and was unable to hire another attorney.

Black has asked the supreme court for permission to join the city of Detroit in its suit to block the increase granted by the commission two weeks ago.

Black opposes the increase on the grounds that a 1945 rate reduction order, still pending on appeal in the Ingham county circuit court, should be disposed of first.

Demands Unjustified, Says Counsel For Carriers

Chicago, Oct. 27 (AP)—Union and management representatives presented arguments before a presidential fact-finding board as hearings opened yesterday in the third round wage-hour dispute between the nation's railroads and 1,000,000 non-operating employees.

The unions' demands, said Guy W. Knight, counsel for the carriers' wage committee, are "tremendous and utterly unjustified."

Lester P. Schoene, counsel for the employees' wage committee, told the board the 40-hour week should be granted to workers because it has been "accepted by virtually all American industries."

The unions have asked, in addition to a reduction in work week from 48 to 40 hours with 48 hours pay, a wage increase of 25 cents an hour, plus overtime pay.

Knight said the demands would cost the railroads $1,500,000,000 a year. He termed the demands "unjustified and unequal and unrivaled in the history of the railway labor act."

He said the demands would mean an hourly wage hike of 48 cents.

Red Troops Leaving, In Northern Korea, Soviet News Claims

Moscow, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass reported in a dispatch from Pyongyang today that Soviet army detachments are on their way out of northern Korea.

Reporting that this was the second group of Red army forces to quit the Communist dominated section of Korea, the agency said the troops were hailed by the public before departure Oct. 24.

There were cries of "hail Soviet army! hail Stalin!" Amid constant applause and offering of flowers, the Soviet news agency said.

TRAN MISSES SLEEPER

Kalamazoo (AP)—Answering a call by railroad officials, sheriff's deputies found a woman's body lying beside Pennsylvania railroad tracks here. They called the coroner. Then the woman, Florence Lonsberry, sleepily got up and explained she had been to a party. During her nap a train passed 18 inches from her head.

Train Rams Steel Truck, Two Killed

Twelve Hurt In Wreck On Ohio Crossing

Uhrichsville, O., Oct. 27 (AP)—The engineer and fireman were killed and 11 persons injured early this morning when a Pennsylvania train crashed into a truckload of steel during a heavy fog.

The dead were identified as Gordon C. Aley, 64, of Pittsburgh, the engineer, and Charles A. Darr, 46, Ingram, Pa., the fireman.

The truck driver, Gregory Karavanic, Route 1, Glenshaw, Pa., received serious burns and was reported in critical condition.

Ten other persons, three of them passengers, were treated at the scene by doctors summoned from surrounding towns. None was injured seriously.

Arlo Lewis, 29, of Pittsburgh, a Greyhound bus driver, said he was following the tractor-trailer, and that it stopped at the crossing and then proceeded across the tracks.

The wreck occurred at Wolf's crossing on U. S. Route 36, about five miles west of here. Eight cars of the 13-car train were derailed and the locomotive demolished.

English Housewife Flies Around Globe

Single-Engine Plane Not Babied, She Says

Tokyo, Oct. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait says she's flying around the world in a single-engine plane "just to prove it can be done without babbling."

"Those American boys who did it had to have escorts on long jumps, you know," said the red-haired Cambridge, England, housewife, who learned to fly on house-ends.

She was referring to George W. Truman and Clifford Evans of Los Angeles who passed through Japan a year ago on a globe-circling flight in a Piper Cub. They had an escort on the hazardous route to the Aleutians.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait, accompanied by Navigator Michael Townsend, landed her British Proctor plane on Haneda airfield here at 12:39 today (10 p. m., Tuesday, E.S.T.), on a flight from Itazuki, Kyushu. They left Calcutta five days ago after a seven weeks wait for plane parts.

The British fliers plan to take off tomorrow for China, alighting on Hokkaido, 325 miles north of Tokyo. From there they will make their longest overwater hop of 1,778 miles to Shimya in the Aleutians. From Shimya; anchorage, Alaska; Whitehorse, Canada, and the North Atlantic route back to England "if the weather permits."

They won't enter the United States unless forced to take the South Atlantic route by weather conditions.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait has an engineer husband and a two-year-old daughter in Cambridge.

Grand Rapids Man Admits Strangling Woman in His Room

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 27 (AP)—Clyde Corbin, 32, of Grand Rapids, pleaded guilty yesterday in the strangulation slaying of Mrs. Vera Byrnes.

Officers said Corbin confessed slaying the 35-year-old divorcee Friday in his hotel room.

Superior Court Judge Theodore B. Taylor said Corbin's plea was to a blanket murder charge. The court will take testimony later to determine the degree of guilt.

Corbin was returned to the Kent county jail to await a routine sanity test and sentencing.

Most of Country Has Sunny Skies

Chicago, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sunny skies and mild temperatures was the welcome prospect for most of the country again today.

During the early morning hours the U. S. weather bureau said there was considerable fog in parts of Michigan, the lower lakes region, the Ohio valley and the Southern California coast.

The chief of police has issued a warning to the effect that children who damage or destroy property will be taken before the probate judge.

To Jail—Edward J. Gruszka of 2915 North Ridgeway avenue Chicago, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy in justice court this morning and was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail. Gruszka was arrested last night. He has been soliciting for magazine subscriptions. Police are investigating further.

Turley Rearrested—On complaint of state police of the Gladstone post a second charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime has been placed against Clifford Turley, 39, of Breezy Point. It is charged that Turley entered the Thelander Nelson dwelling at Ford River and carried off carpenter tools and other articles. Turley previously was charged with stealing two outboard motors from Peterson & Jacobsen Auto Service in Escanaba. In Justice Henry Ranguette's court Turley asked hearing on both counts and is held in jail in default of $500 bond on each count.

Heart Attack Fatal To Charles Johnson, Services Friday

Charles Johnson, 66, of 1018 Sheridan Road, died unexpectedly of a heart attack yesterday afternoon at his home. Mr. Johnson, apparently in good health, had worked as usual yesterday, and was stricken shortly after returning to his home.

He was born in Solv, Finland, November 2, 1881, and came to Escanaba from Finland in 1901. He was employed as a top ore dock worker for the Chicago & North Western Railway.

He was a member of the Order of Runeberg, the North Star lodge and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Surviving are his wife, Alma Wick Johnson, two daughters, Mrs. Leslie (Eileen) Peterson, Escanaba, and Miss Ethel Johnson of Waukegan, Ill., and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Anderson funeral home, with burial in Lakeview cemetery. The rites will be conducted by Rev. Gustav Lund of Bethany Lutheran church. The body will be in state at the funeral home Thursday noon.

Music That Serves Humanity Is Ideal Of Westminster

The vision of a youth, many years ago, that choral music could be made a mighty instrument to serve humanity is today circling the world with song and sending messengers of cheer into blighted metropolitan tenements and slums.

A "ministry of music" is the idea Dr. John Finley Williamson likes to use in describing the idea on which he founded the Westminster Choir college. For music, no matter how high its artistic and technical quality, fulfills its mission completely, Dr. Williamson holds, only when it brings an influence of joy, peace and good will to individuals, communities and nations.

Listen attentively here tonight when the Westminster Choir sings Schuetz's "Make A Joyful Noise unto the Lord," or Willan's "I Beheld Her Beautiful as a Dove" or the infectious vocal joviality of Handel's "Haste Thee Nymph" or the plaintive spiritual "There is a Balm in Gilead," and you will notice emotional and interpretive qualities in its work which reveal Dr. Williamson's genius for conveying to his students this ideal of musicianship as a ministry. The success of the choir in carrying the message to its audiences is evident from the widening circle of its activities.

GOODMAN DRUG GRAND OPENING

Store To Open Thursday In New Location

The new Roy Goodman drug store will have its grand opening tomorrow at 1018 Ludington, a new location for one of Escanaba's oldest established pharmacies.

For twenty years Goodman's drug store was located at 701 Ludington, site of the former Ellisworth pharmacy founded about 60 years ago.

The interior of the new Goodman drug store at 1018 Ludington has been completely redecorated in harmonizing shades of blue and gray. Modern lighting and colorful flooring add to the attractiveness of the store.

Goodman, a registered pharmacist, announced that a complete line of drugs and a prescription center will be maintained; and that gifts and other merchandise are displayed.

A soda fountain is being installed. Featured on the opening day will be the presentation of orchids to women customers. The orchids were flown from Hawaii. They are the dainty baby variety, pink and white in color.

Seven Public Questions Face Voters On Nov. 2

BY JACK I. GREEN

Lansing (AP)—Michigan voters, faced with decisions on seven public questions at the November election, have, first, the routine job of preventing any tangles in the succession to the governorship.

Proposal No. 1 on the ballot will be a constitutional amendment submitted by the legislature to avoid any such mix-up which occurred when the late Eugene Talmadge died after being elected governor of Georgia but before he took office. A dispute arose as to whether the lieutenant governor-elect should become governor, or whether a new one should be chosen by some other method.

The Michigan voters are asked now to write into the constitution a provision that if a governor-elect dies before taking office the governorship must go to the lieutenant-governor-elect. That is the same line of succession which is followed if a governor dies in office.

No opposition has been heard among state groups to that proposal.

Proposal No. 2

Proposal No. 2 would repeal the

Mrs. Loney LaFave, Life-Long Resident Of Flat Rock, Dies

Mrs. Loney LaFave, 69, a life long resident of Flat Rock, died at 1:30 a. m. today in St. Francis hospital. She had been ill for the past seven years suffering from cancer.

She was born, Edna Deiter, in Flat Rock August 8, 1879.

She leaves her husband, one son, John, of Rock, one daughter, Mrs. Nellie Pearson of Escanaba; and five brothers and one sister, Fred, Albert, Columbus, Jesse and Chester Deiter, and Mrs. Fred Desotell, all of Flat Rock.

The body will be in state at the Alto funeral home Friday afternoon. Services will be held at the funeral home at 2 p. m. Saturday, with Rev. Karl J. Hammar of the Central Methodist church officiating, and burial will be in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

Escanaba C-C Will Elect 5 Directors; Primary On Monday

Primary ballots are now being mailed to Escanaba Chamber of Commerce members for the nomination of candidates to the board of directors, it was announced today. The primary election will be held Monday, Nov. 1, and the final vote will be on Friday, Nov. 5.

Ten candidates will be nominated in the balloting in the primary election, and the names of those nominees will go to the membership for the election of five to the board of directors.

The retiring members of the board are F. J. Earle, B. W. Hall, A. P. Jensen, Jule Lee and Denis McGinn. Hold-over members of the board are E. G. Bennett, J. H. Jackson, Grover Lewis, C. J. Sawyer and H. H. Shepeck.

The ten nominees will be picked by the members from the membership roster. The primary voting will close at 7 p. m. Monday, Nov. 1. Ballots may be mailed or delivered in person to the Chamber of Commerce office.

sales tax diversion amendment. It has the active opposition of the Michigan Education Association, the Michigan Municipal League and representatives of the townships. At the present time the schools receive one-third of the state sales tax, and in addition the schools receive an annual appropriation based on the previous year's total sales tax revenue.

Favoring repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment are those who believe payments to the townships and cities are unnecessary; and that the state is financially embarrassed because the sales tax is syphoned off, leaving the legislature with inadequate funds for required state services.

Pay raises for elective state officials and the legislature are being presented to Michigan voters in November on ballot proposals three and four.

Proposal No. 3 would remove the constitutional limitations on the salaries of state officials. Proposal No. 4 would eliminate the constitutional restriction on legislator's pay and expenses.

State Salaries

Both questions have the strong endorsement of Governor Sigler, but were placed on the ballot reluctantly by legislators who openly predicted the people would not approve them.

The constitution now provides that the governor and attorney general shall be paid $5,000, while the secretary of state, state treasurer and auditor general shall receive $2,500 a year. These were considered adequate salaries in 1908 when the constitution was adopted.

In the years since, salaries of state employees under Civil Service and of salaried persons generally have risen far above that level. In many cases, deputies in state offices receive more money than their superiors, the elected officials.

The legislature, openly seeking to circumvent the constitution, has relieved the short salaries somewhat.

The governor, by law, now receives an additional $2,500 for serving on the state administrative board and $12,500 as a "grant to a private person", or a total of $20,000.

The salaries of the other elected officials are boosted to a total of $7,500 each because of their membership on the administrative board.

Proposal No. 3 would let the legislature fix the salaries of these officials by law, but under another provision of the constitution no official's salary could be increased during his term of office.

Sigler contends that it is difficult to obtain strong, capable candidates for public office at the salaries now paid and that the people should be willing to pay salaries more equal to those paid the heads of large private corporations.

Attract Better Men?

Michigan legislators' salaries are now fixed by the constitution at $3 a day for each day of their two-year terms, or $1,095 per year. In addition, they receive 10 cents a mile travel expenses for one round trip to each regular and special session.

Actually, the costs of living in Lansing requires most legislators to spend their entire salary during the time they are attending sessions. Many of them, successful business and professional men, spend more being a legislator than they receive and also suffer losses of business income while away from home.

The ballot proposal would allow the legislators to fix their own salaries and also to pay themselves expense money, now forbidden by the constitution.

Opponents of the plan argue mainly that higher salaries will be no deterrent to graft or assurance of better grade public officials. They contend that the best officials are those who enter politics for the thrill of the game, because of a desire to serve or for the "glory" of public life.

Higher salaries, these opponents argue, will merely attract those who hope to make a living at the expense of the taxpayers.

The opponents shoot especially at the provision which would allow legislators to pay themselves expense money, contending that is a privilege open to wide abuses.

The legislators reply that the surest way to a political death would be for them to vote excessive salaries to themselves or state officials.

Twenty-one states are reported to allow legislators fix their own salaries. They range from $3,000 per session to $500 a year, but usually with more generous mileage allowances. The average salary seems to be about $2,500 a year.

15-Mill Limit

A plan to soften the 15-mill tax limitation—proposal No. 5 on the November election ballot—is the baby of the Michigan Education Association and its affiliated 35,000 school teachers.

Fast developing into the most controversial question facing the voters this fall, the proposal is being fought hard by the farm bureau, grange and real estate groups.

In effect, the proposal would amend the constitution to make it easier to raise the 15-mill limit with the hope, largely, of providing more money for school construction, operation and teachers' salaries.

The present 15-mill limitation may be raised up to five per cent (60 mills) for five years by a two-thirds vote of the electorate. The new proposal would allow the limit to be raised up to five per cent for 20 years by a majority vote of the electorate.

The Michigan Education association secured sufficient petitions to put the issue on the ballot, contending that the 15-mill limit was so difficult to increase under the present method that financing of new school construction was virtually blocked. The chance of obtaining a two-thirds vote in favor of higher taxes are almost nil in most cases, the M. E. A. contended.

For New Schools

The M. E. A. also raises the argument that very little school construction can be paid off in the five year period now allowed.

The association has published columns of figures to show the need for new school buildings, but basically they boil down to an estimate that Michigan's school plant will need $400,000,000 to put in shape. Admittedly the possibility of financing such a program under present tax powers is also almost nil.

Three factors in the proposal have drawn the heaviest fire.

One is the idea of raising the limitation by a majority, instead of two-thirds vote. Real estate interests argue that a majority vote provision permits large blocs of non-property owning voters to outvote those who own property and must bear the lion's share of the increased tax burden.

Another argument advanced against the proposal is that a five per cent increase for 20 years would permit property to be taxed 100 per cent of its assessed valuation to pay off a bond issue.

The third opposition argument is that the tax increase could be voted for either construction or operating expenses.

Opponents claim that increased millage for the operation of schools, for instance, should not be voted at one election and be binding for 20 years.

The Grange and the Farm Bureau, as well as other opponents, have said they would favor a relaxing of the 15 mill limitation if it were confined to construction purposes only, but they object strenuously to what they call uncontrolled increases for operating funds.

Proposal No. 6 proposes an act to regulate and control the operation of foreign agencies acting within the state of Michigan and to prescribe penalties for violations of the act.

On a separate ballot is the proposal to call a convention for a study toward revision of Michigan's constitution.

Union Responsibility

THE RESPONSIBILITY of international unions for acts of their agents was rather clearly defined in a decision issued this week by the National Labor Relations board. The board held that a union may show its consent to the acts of its agent even by passive acquiescence as well as by words and further held that a labor union may be responsible for an agent's acts even though the union may have forbidden the acts.

Although the board split, 3 to 2, on this issue, the majority viewpoint is the more reasonable one because it prevents labor unions from disavowing the acts of its own agents. This is a basic tenet of law in this country.

In the case in point, the international representative participated in picket line violence. The board held that actual participation was not necessary to involve the international union in responsibility for the act. The mere presence of an international officer or agent during picket line violence is sufficient to involve the international union, if the agent makes no effort to stop the illegal act.

The board's interpretation, enforceable in the courts, removes a technical loophole behind which union officers would otherwise be able to hide.

Another Veto

RUSSIA'S deputy foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky, Monday killed the small power proposal for a compromise ending of the Berlin blockade. Vishinsky cast a veto against the proposal in the security council after the western powers, France, Britain and the United States, had announced that they would accept the resolution.

Vishinsky killed the proposal because it provided for immediate lifting of the Russian blockade against Berlin. He proposed instead that Russia lift the blockade in stages in accordance with progress in negotiations for currency reforms in Berlin demanded by the Russians. The western powers have consistently taken the position that they will not negotiate with Russia until the Soviets have first ended all of the transportation restrictions to Berlin. The western powers rightfully have held that the blockade is illegal and contrary to agreements previously made by the major powers.

The point is that Russia intends to use the blockade as a weapon to force Allied acceptance of Soviet demands in Berlin and in Germany.

Vishinsky says now that the Berlin problem reverts back to the Moscow agreement of August 30, but it was that agreement which the Soviet commander in Berlin, Marshal Sokolovsky, himself rejected at the time he sought control of the air lift used by the Allies to circumvent the blockade.

Russia's constant objections to every plan to settle the Berlin problem leaves no conclusion other than that the Soviets in truth do not want to solve the problem. That it is a threat to peace, as the western powers charged before the security council, is an undeniable truth.

Economic Absurdity

IN its October issue of Labor's Monthly Survey, the American Federation of Labor said that to continue the wage-price spiral "is an economic absurdity which benefits no one." Words with greater truth were never written, but in the same article the AFL laid the groundwork for a possible new round of wage increases.

The AFL bemoans the fact that each postwar wage boost has resulted in a proportionately greater increase in the cost of living, with the result that wages have fallen steadily behind living costs. Unfortunately, this is an inevitable development in our complex economic system. Higher production costs are multiplied as they pass down the line from the manufacturer to the jobber to the retailer and ultimately to the consumer.

If organized labor presses for and is granted a new round of wage boosts, it is a certainty that living costs will once more increase to the point that the new wage boost will be wiped out as far as purchasing power is concerned.

There is only one way by which wages can be increased without increasing the price of labor's product. That is simply by greater production. As the AFL itself concedes, to continue the wage-price spiral, "is an economic absurdity which benefits no one."

The Hungry Two-Billion

EVERY DAY on this rolling globe of ours, from 50,000 to 60,000 babies are born and from 25,000 to 30,000 persons die. This food must be found somewhere for at least 25,000 new and hungry mouths each day in the year.

This is the basic theme of "The Road to Survival," a new book by William Vogt. How are the increasing millions of men and women, including you and me, to be fed, sheltered and clothed? Land all over the world, says Conservationist Vogt, is being exploited or used stupidly.

"It's a dangerous dream dogma, a myth, that the earth burgeons with limitless resources, available without intelligent stewardship for brutal private or public exploitation," says Vogt. "Food does not come out of the blue. It comes in the last analysis from solar energy through plants. The balanced nutrition pill of the chemists is still in the making, and human beings need a minimum of 2,000 calories a day, which millions of them do not and cannot get in the present age."

"We are the most destructive group of human beings who have ever raved the earth," says Vogt. "We have moved into the richest treasure houses ever opened to man, and in a few decades we have turned millions of acres into shambles and wastes."

What's the world answer? Land must be used with recognition of its capacities, conservation and replenishment of resources must be on a broader and more intelligent basis.

The author says we have overdrawn our account for a long time, and now the promissory notes are falling due. If we keep on as at present, there will be a catastrophic crash of our civilization. The most prosperous countries may be nearer than they think to Malthus' primary checks on population—war, famine, pestilence and death.

NECESSARY TO SAVE EUROPE (Cleveland Press)

Administrator Paul G. Hoffman of the Marshall Plan is back from Europe bubbling over with optimism.

He thinks the recovery program has blocked the Red advance, or at least that Greece, Italy and France were saved from Communist dictatorship by their economic progress and new hope flowing from American aid. To cap that good news, he suggests that it probably will be possible to reduce our Marshall Plan appropriations next year materially.

Hoffmann, Ambassador-at-Large Harrison and their associates deserve great credit for this initial success. So do the European officials, most of whose battling averages in this co-operative international effort are high. Along with the vision and hard work which have gone into it, there also has been an element of good luck—European harvests have exceeded expectations.

Beyond all this, Russia with her hostile propaganda and attempted sabotage has provided a daily prod to everyone connected with ERP.

Without discounting Hoffman's optimism regarding the good start this year, it is necessary to point out that the road ahead is long and hard. He says: "If continued progress can be made, if the free nations remain united, we can be sure no aggressor will march against us." But there are a lot of "ifs" in that outlook.

And there is still another "if" to be added—if the western European nations develop their new defense union fast enough with lend-lease or some comparable form of American military aid. To cut economic aid to finance defense would be as short-sighted as to neglect military security. Both are required to combat the march of communism, and in each case American help is essential.

POLISH REFUGEES AND WISCONSIN (Milwaukee Journal)

It is gratifying to see that Milwaukee citizens of Polish descent are banding together to plan for the resettlement of Polish refugees who come to Wisconsin under the displaced persons resettlement program.

Refugees should not, of course, be classified on a racial basis. The state should open its arms to properly screened persons from all nationalities and creeds. Prime consideration should be given to getting persons who can do the work Wisconsin has available for the worthy distressed. But it is important, just the same, that groups which may not speak English be helped to their adjustment here by their own racial strains.

Milwaukeeans of Polish descent, in setting up a special committee to get Polish refugees settled and adjusted, are performing a service which nobody else could perform as well.

PET SPEECH PEEVE

The customary award goes this week to Mrs. M. McConnell, of Miami Beach. She writes: "My Pet Speech Peeve can be illustrated by one side of a conversation I heard recently at a yacht basin: 'It's a fact' that's a beautiful Chriscraft and so well kept! I wouldn't object to it as a gift'."

Mrs. McConnell has called attention to a far too common error in American speech—that of dropping the final "t" in such words as soft, least, best, rest, raft, crept, correct, reject, left, and so on.

I do not advise making a fetish of final "t" by overemphasizing it, as some too-precise broadcasters do. But we should pronounce the "t" discernably, especially in any form of public speaking.

An error that is equally serious is the sounding of final "t" in words which do not end in "t," as "across" for across, "onset" for once, "wist" for wish, "attack" for attack, "ast" for ask.

I think I should also give Southerners a little scolding, in what Admiral Halsey called "a friendly fashion," for omitting "t" in certain words, as "set" for self, "help" for help, "film" for film.

Such errors as these are of small consequence in intimate or casual conversation. But they act as stoplights when they are heard in serious or formal speech,

Attack Aimed at Columbia U

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The report persists that the House Un-American Activities committee means to turn its attention next to the universities and the threat of "subversive" forces in higher education. The committee, so the report goes, will open up first on Columbia University in New York.

That would be in accord with the pattern established by this headline-hunting body. Because the president of Columbia is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, anything to do with that university will get a higher ratio of publicity.

But the committee is likely to find that president Eisenhower is prepared to meet them on their own ground. Before going headline hunting in the great university over which he presides, the members of the committee would do well to read the address he gave when he was formally installed as president.

Careful Survey In that address Eisenhower clearly stated the right of academic inquiry and the freedom to teach political doctrines considered evil. As the general pointed out, a medical student has not merely the right but the duty to study cancer and its causes and so does the political scientist have the right to explore the pathology of politics.

In the six months he has been at Columbia, Eisenhower has carefully and thoroughly surveyed the teaching staff. Aware of the possibility of an investigation, he has kept in mind the question of "Un-American teaching." Recently he spent a day in frank and full discussion with the faculty of teachers college, which is the branch of the university most often accused of radicalism.

Eisenhower came away convinced of the true Americanism of teachers college. By taking statements out of their context and by other tricks of distortion some members of the faculty had been deliberately smeared.

The House committee will find president Eisenhower prepared not merely to defend the record of Columbia but to praise it before the world. They will find in him an able and courageous champion of academic freedom.

What the committee would hope to find at Columbia is obvious. They would like to ferret out someone on the faculty who had fallen for Communism, get him or her up before the movie cameras and then go to town as they have done in the past.

There may be such an individual or individuals. Columbia is a large institution made up of persons of many diverse origins and background. But such a discovery will have nothing to do with the great body of teaching at Columbia or, for that matter, at any other large American university.

Fear And Suspicion Manifestations of thought correction and guilt by association are developing in a frightening fashion. It is not merely rhetoric to say that freedoms profoundly and inherently American are threatened today. I have been hearing of things that have happened here in Washington in connection with the loyalty investigation that I could hardly believe were happening in this free country of ours. Fear and suspicion are poisoning the lives of American citizens who have never had the slightest shadow of a thought of disloyalty.

Before the New York Herald-Tribune forum the other day Paul A. Porter, former OPA director, made a suggestion that deserves serious consideration. He proposed appointment by the president of a committee of top-ranking Americans who would "appraise the dangers and disasters of political demagoguery in abolishing our freedoms while pretending to protect our security."

Specifically, Porter proposed that Eisenhower be named as the chairman of such a committee. Presumably the committee would be appointed by the incoming president. But there are many arguments, it seems to me, for the appointment of such a committee by President Truman immediately after the election. And if General Eisenhower could be persuaded to accept the chairmanship, president-elect Dewey (as he presumably will be) should welcome the move.

With a new Republican administration tensions should be lessened. Suspicions and fears should be allayed. But Dewey may find himself under pressure from within his own party to further in "cleaning out Communism in the government" than he would care to go. He may find himself pressured to act in such a way as to compound present injustices.

A committee of fair-minded citizens of high reputation would be a bulwark against that sort of pressure. Its findings, supported by public opinion, should do much to quiet hysteria. When the hurly-burly of the campaign is over it will be time for such a move.

(Copyright, 1948, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

and it is wise to be on guard against them.

Public speakers especially should also curb the tendency to drop the final "g" in all the -ing words. The dropped "g" was customary in the careless-elegant speech of the last century; but it is elegant no longer—it is merely careless. I should avoid it on the radio, in speaking from the platform or pulpit, or on any other occasion that requires a high standard of speech.

But far worse than the dropped "g" is the pronunciation "een" for "finaling" as "bringer, fighter, singer," etc. For years I've sought the explanation for this curious corruption; but I'm still in the dark. I can only say, don't say "een" for -ing.

EAR TO THE GROUND—We have a political prediction to make. Before we do that, however, we must tell you that we have our ear to the ground, our finger in the political wind, our nose to the grindstone and our shoulder to the wheel. This prediction is that it will be difficult to get straightened out again after Nov. 2.

Almost every newspaper columnist in the nation has had one, two or several guesses on what the future will bring. Dewey will win; Dewey will win; and Dewey will win. Truman will win. That's three to one for Dewey. Yet these political prognosticators overlooked one thing: Wallace had more tomatoes (ossed at him than any other candidate. The tomato share-croppers are behind (and sometimes in front) of Wallace. It isn't every presidential candidate who can receive that much attention.

SINCE WE MUST—After watching the incumbents busily repairing their political fences while the aspirants busily tore them down, we have come to the conclusion that what this country needs is more of those low electric fences. Politicians could straddle these more comfortably, but if they straddled too far they would be shocked upright again. Since we must make a prediction so we can get our ear off the ground, we predict:

That after Nov. 2 the election boards will still be wondering how they got the ballots mixed up, the tallies entered in the wrong way, and why the tellers didn't have their bifocals adjusted before they went on duty.

WE PREDICT—We also predict that the presidential candidate who is trailing so far behind he knows the jig is up will send a telegram congratulating his opponent "on the basis of unofficial but conclusive returns." The defeated candidate will also, we predict, pledge his cooperation and that of his party in "presenting a solid front of cooperation and unity" in the furtherance of our foreign policy.

It is also safe to predict that political writers will praise the defeated candidate's sportsmanship, big-hearted magnanimity, "vigorous pursuit of the presidency," and the way he keeps his suits cleaned and pressed. Their stories will go something like this:

"Conceding defeat in his bid for the presidency, yet smiling and apparently still vigorous despite the long, hard campaign (fill in the space yourself) today sent a message of congratulations to (ditto as above) and pledged his support for a united front to the world in the critical days ahead."

THE DAY BEFORE—And the triumphant candidate will receive the message with proper modesty. He will praise the sentiments motivating the defeated candidate and cordially accept "the sincere offer of cooperation." Next day the defeated minority candidate will warn that his offer of cooperation "did not indicate a lack of faith in our country's traditional concept of bi-partisan government," and

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Bark River—Helen and Stanley Butryn have submitted to tonsilectomies at St. Francis hospital. Garden—Mrs. Ed Cousineau has returned from Marquette where she has attended her sister Marion Pizzala of Fayette, who is a surgical patient there in St. Luke's hospital.

Escanaba—Miss Mary Meighen supervisor of elementary schools in this city, is co-author of a new book for children, "Fun for You" written with Marjorie Pratt of Shorewood, Wis.

Ensign—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stenlund are the parents of a son born Oct. 25 in St. Francis hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse LePalm of Danforth was destroyed by fire yesterday. Two children, Francis, 5, and Dorothy, 19 months, barely escaped death in the fire.

Gladstone—Mrs. John Johnson has returned from Minneapolis where she visited her son Edward who is a student of the University there, and attended the homecoming football game between the University and Chicago.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rediker are the parents of a son born Oct. 25.

They call me a bitter, disappointed old man. I'm not disappointed about anything. I just do my laughing privately.—John L. Lewis, president, United Mine Workers.

that his party will continue "a vigorous and essential minority role."

But the day before the election—wow! Party spokesmen will be accusing each other of all sorts of ruinous plans, policies and programs. The United States will be unsafe in the hands of either party, if you believe the claims and counter-claims. The date of Nov. 3 will dawn with the calm following a tropical hurricane and hope for the future will bloom again in the hearts of the voters.

ONLY HALF-SAFE—The composure of the average American citizen during the hectic days of a presidential campaign is traditional and colossal. If he believed only one-half of what he hears in a campaign, he would believe that fifty per cent of our politicians and statesmen are corrupt. He would believe that the United States is headed for 1—Depression, 2—Chaos, 3—Depression and chaos. Fortunately he does not believe anything of the kind and goes calmly about his business of making our country a safer and better place in which to live.

IN AND OUT—This business of columnists and radio commentators "predicting" who will win or lose an election is a lot of malarkey designed to impress the readers and/or listeners. Some of it is a bit of wishful thinking, most of it is based on what the public opinion polls reveal.

In conclusion, we predict that the election will be held as scheduled and that columnists who have guessed wrong will spend several days "explaining" the forces that upset their prognostication. If they guessed right they will spend several days congratulating themselves.

The one safe re-election prediction is that those candidates who get a majority vote will be in, and those who receive the minority vote will be out.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—America's Public Enemy No. 1 is going to wake up a week from today, take a look at his newspaper and start moaning:

"Good Lord, look who they've elected."

He will weary his wife with loud cries of lamentation: "The country's gone to the dogs. What a place this will be to live in for the next four years."

He will annoy his fellow workers at the office with his wails: "What did that bum do to earn a place at the public trough? I wish I could hibernate until 1952."

And there will be many people, sick of P. E. No. One's yammering, who'll wish he would hibernate.

Who is this human eight-ball? I'll tell you his name. His name is Legion. He is democracy's worst foe. He could be the guy who lives next door or in the apartment over you. He may be you yourself.

He is the guy who thinks he knows exactly what's wrong with his country—and won't take a few small steps to the polls to help set it right.

Lots of Excuses

Come next Wednesday he'll have a lot of reasons, all bad, for why he didn't bother to do in the secrecy of a voting booth what John Hancock once dared to do in the open—at the risk of a king's anger.

This man with a citizenship quota of minus zero will expiate away his failure to back what he believes in by saying:

"I forgot to register."

Or, "I had something else to do and there was a line at the polls."

The trouble with that attitude is that no man is ever in a position to be sure how much or how little his vote counts.

Take the case of the two men who perhaps did most to win the crossing of the Rhine in the second World War.

Staff Sgt. Eugene Dorland of Chicago fired two bullets—but those bullets cut the conduit holding wires leading to explosive charges placed by German engineers on the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen.

Sgt. Alexander A. Drabik of Holland, O., leaped on the lonely firestepped bridge and raced ahead of ten riflemen to the other side.

Two enlisted men—but an army's grand offensive teetered on their sense of duty.

Not Much Trouble

It would have been simple for Dorland to say:

"Why should I lose my neck cutting a few strands of wire?"

History would never have known it if Drabik ducked under cover and consoled himself:

"That bridge is no place for a 34-year-old man, and the boys with me won't mind if we sweat it out here."

Neither of the two men knew that their lone acts of heroism would help shatter the war and save thousands of American lives. It was just another dirty anonymous battle assignment to them—when they did it.

Voting in America is now clean, safe and anonymous. It just takes a little bit of trouble.

But what quiet men fought to win in battle can be easily lost in peacetime by men of lazy conscience whose sense of duty needs an alarm clock.

"X" marks the fate of any democracy where the people won't take the bother to scratch "X" on a ballot.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

En Route Through Midwest.—Lieut. Col. Paul Douglas of Illinois, hard-hitting Democratic candidate for senator, is getting it from both the Fascists right and the Commie left.

The other day, G. O. P. Congressman Fred Busbey, one of the Chicago Tribune's trained seals, unleashed a diatribe at Douglas calling him a left-winger, a friend of the Commies, and about every other political epithet he could think of. The blast was so unfair that Busbey's patron saint, the Tribune, published an editorial halfway apologizing for its congressman.

Meanwhile Douglas is getting it in the neck from the other side. Several months ago, before Douglas entered the senatorial race, Bill Miller, Wallaceite leader of the Progressive party, approached Jake Arvey, Democratic leader of Chicago, with a proposal to run no Wallace candidates against local Democratic candidates.

"You've got some pretty good men running," Miller told Arvey, "and we'll support 'em. But we want to know whom you're going to run for the Senate. If it's Douglas we won't deal."

"Why not?" asked Arvey. Miller hesitated. "We don't like him," he said.

"Well what's wrong with him?" Arvey persisted.

"He's a Red baiter," replied the leading Wallaceite. "He's always talking about the danger of Communism."

In the end Arvey told Miller Douglas would stay in the race, so the deal was off.

Real truth is that Douglas is feared and hated by the extreme left-wingers because he knows their game. Enlisting as a private in the Marine Corps at the age of 50, Douglas rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel, was wounded, had a magnificent record. A former Chicago university professor and member of Chicago's city council, he stands head and shoulders above the Chicago Tribune's Sen. Curley Brooks.

Note—A lot of people are going to split their ballots in Illinois and other Midwest states next week.

GUY GILLETTE MAKES COMEBACK

Back in 1938, Harry Hopkins, son of an Iowa harness-maker and right - bower to FDR, flashed the signal that his chief in the White House would oppose the Democratic senator from Iowa for re-election. The senator in question, silver-crested Guy Gillette, had opposed many Roosevelt policies and was put first on the list for FDR's famous purge.

Result: Iowans, boiling mad, went out of their way to renominate Gillette.

Later Guy, a Democrat, became the victim of Iowa's normal Republican swing, and went back to his fields of corn and his front porch. Today, with no machine to support him, little money, and a weak candidate at the head of the ticket, Gillette appears to be staging a comeback.

With the stamina of a truck driver, he has piloted his own car all over the state, talking wherever there is a crowd, indoors or out.

Iowans pride themselves on their voting intelligence and their voting independence. It looks as if they will feature Dewey and Gillette at the head of their ballots next Tuesday.

SURPRISE IN KANSAS

A mild mannered ex-senator from Kansas is driving a third second-hand Pontiac around his rock-ribbed Republican state, speaking five times a day, drawing good crowds and making so many friends that his opponent is getting worried.

The ex-senator is George Magill, one of the few Democrats ever sent to Washington from a state where running for the Senate on the Democratic ticket is considered about as hopeless as running on the Republican ticket in Virginia. This year, while Virginia will probably vote Republican, certain Midwestern states are likely to send Democrats to the Congress.

Magill's race is tougher than most—though not because he is running against ex-Governor Andy Schoepel, whom Alf Landon once called "the errand boy of the big corporations."

Magill is getting some quiet support from certain of Senator Capper's faithful friends, sore over the way Capper was pushed out of the senatorial picture.

But the main factor helping Magill is the slipping price of wheat, plus an inane remark made by Schoepel. Asked who was running against him, Schoepel replied: "I'm running against some Irishman and I can't think of his name."

A lot of Kansas farmers, however, know Magill's name and know it pleasantly. For when in the Senate, he co-authored the Pope-Magill farm bill providing for 90 per cent parity loans on wheat and other staple crops. A lot of farmers are also getting wise to the fact that it was the 80th Congress that gutted the Pope-Magill bill by prohibiting the government from renting additional elevators to store grain. Thus the government cannot buy from the farmers.

So the Kansas race between tortoise Magill and hare Schoepel may yield some surprises.

MIDWEST MERRY-GO-ROUND

Friends of Illinois' handsome Gov. Dwight Green are thanking his lucky star he is running in a presidential year. Otherwise he would be swamped. Last time he won by only 68,000 votes, and this year he has to live down the Centralia mine scandal plus the embarrassment of his gambler friends and their big campaign contributions. Green's opponent, Adlai Stevenson, is a former U. S. delegate to the United Nations, assistant to the secretary of the Navy, and is the grandson of a vice president of the United States. Several Republican newspapers have endorsed him. . . . It looks like G. O. P. Congressman Ross Rizley will be snowed under in the senatorial race in Oklahoma.

WRITER ICKES DOESN'T RATE

Ruark Tees Off On Self-Styled Curmudgeon

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York, Oct. 26.—One of the chief reasons I have always scorned the journalistic freak—the unfrocked politico, peddling his shoddy memoirs, the ham actor with the underpaid ghost writer—is their graceless contempt for the press which pays them. They never succeed in breaking themselves of a big-shot complex; they never lose their strut, although they are passe in whatever racket made them eligible to horn into business which demands some technical merit of its professionals.

You could say I am over-sensitive about this, because my feet still hurt when I recall the ignominy of hustling sandwiches and copy as a necessary initiation to the newspaper business. In the process of filling paste pots, I acquired a reverence for the whole field of American journalism, and a sweeping admiration for the man who is allowed to bat off his byline before he writes his lead.

I won't deny there's a dripping slice of ham in anybody who makes a living by whumping out a daily essay. If they eliminated the "I" key we'd all starve stiff. But so help me, Horace Greeley, I know of no single pro who would admit the untethered call to upbraid the entire American press for not paying court to a purely political speech made over the radio, a rival medium. And, with heavy sarcasm, to call pointed attention to his next political hand-spring. And to impugn the honesty of the profession of which he currently claims to be a member.

A Political Pauper

This has just been done by a political pauper, Harold Ickes, who proceeded to columnizing when he ran out of government work. Mr. Ickes' qualifications to sway the public mind come from a stint as secretary of the interior, where he displayed a certain talent for invective while playing hatchet-man for FDR.

As a practicing journalist, I would say Mr. Ickes ranks today somewhere between Margaret O'Brien and Grace Allen. As a political power he ranks nowhere, not even in his own impoverished Democratic regime, which is a month away from extinction. He is a pundit without portfolio, with nothing but noise to recommend him, and his opinion is without official significance.

Yet the old self-styled curmudgeon has the crust to berate press associations and individual newspapers for not giving detailed space to a hammer-job he was doing on Tom Dewey—not that I care a hapenny who does what to Master Dewey. This he did under his byline and picture—an action comparable to my reprimanding the Hearst newspapers for not carrying a review of my performance on, say, "Information Please." He couples this conceit with a crack that "long public experience has convinced me of the Mundane judiciousness of the press in election years," which I would construe as treasonous fouling of a nest he chooses to

This kind of bombastic self-esteem is largely unknown even to the doddling members of my craft, including pastured sports-writers, such as I, and disgraced police-beat boys who now sport canes and a line of agate explanation under their names. We have our many faults, but few of us would dare attempt to play Messiah for the opposition. At the moment I can think of nothing less important, politically or journalistically, than a de-horned interior secretary who, bounced by his own cult, currently feeds on his retroactive malice. I would listen, perhaps, if he diffused some genial anecdotes of the old, early war days of stringent gas rationing, when he delivered eggs to a Washington store in a government limousine, on government gas. If he told us how he got the special rationing to keep his private tractor and other vehicles buzzing along on his private farm, for private profit. But a self-written essay on the importance of being Ick leaves me chilly. Nothing is deadlier than a

U. S. Food Expert Sees World Peace Maturing In Bumper Grain Crops

By GAYNOR WODDOX
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York (NEA) — Enormous grain crops all over the world may prevent another major war, in the opinion of Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board of General Mills and a director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

If war can be avoided for a few more months, Bullis says, big crops now maturing will do more to preserve peace than all the diplomatic double talk and military sabre rattling can accomplish.

The prospect of these bumper crops, he thinks, may have more to do with the more optimistic reports now coming out of Europe on the Berlin situation. Men are in much better psychological and emotional mood to sit down around a table and talk over their differences in friendly fashion, he suggests, when they are adequately fed and their constituents are getting enough to eat.

"It looks to me," said Bullis "as if old Mother Nature is taking a hand in healing our war-torn world. This year she is preparing to give mankind enough to eat. I hope that, as a result, we can now make some progress toward reconciling the ideologies of East and West."

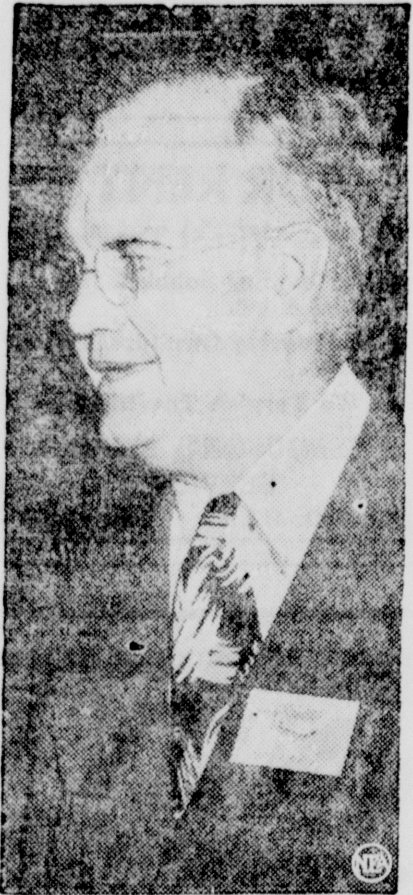

"What I saw in Europe last year, at this time, and what I have learned since from every informed source, convinces me that the European diplomatic picture has been improved by new crops that are almost up to prewar level. If we get by this calendar year without war, then we will be headed definitely toward international peace for a long time."

The peak of the American grain export program was reached in July, says Bullis, whose company is one of the biggest buyers of raw food materials and sellers of processed foods. Less of our own near-record crop will be sent abroad this year than was the case last year.

With a wheat crop of more than a billion bushels in sight, and big yields of other grains, the falling off in exports will make much more available for both human and animal consumption at home.

Nevertheless, Bullis does not expect meat prices to decline for at least a year. He does not dispute others who say it will be longer than that.

The reason is that the nation's animal population has been cut by the high price of meat and the high cost of feeding. Department of Agriculture figures show that the number of cattle on the range dropped from 85 millions to 78 millions from the beginning of 1944 to the first of this year. The number of hogs fell from 84 millions to only 55 millions. The number of sheep and lambs on the range declined from 51 millions to 35 millions and the number on feeding from 6.5 millions to less than five millions.

Short grain crops, high prices, and export needs have contributed to this weakening of the nation's meat backlog, and the big new crops are expected to en-

Honored At Shower

Rapid River, Mich., — Mrs. George Moore and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ray Sundquist were honored at a shower held Tuesday afternoon at the Moore home with relatives and neighbors attending. Games were followed by a pot luck lunch after which the honor guests opened their pink and blue gifts. Guests were Mrs. Emil Nelson and Mrs. Elmer Moore, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Frank Nygren, Mrs. Elmer Slostrom, Mrs. Ole Sundquist, Mrs. Curtis Blosser, Mrs. Frank Gerlich, Mrs. Orin Papineau, Mrs. Nels Larson and Mrs. Peter Bond.

Phyllis Jane's Party

Phyllis Jane Hayes, who was 5 years old Friday, celebrated her birthday with a party at her home after school. Decorations and favors were in the Halloween motif. The children played games and Mrs. Hayes served a lunch with a birthday cake, the table centerpiece. At the party were Katherine Wilbee, Dell Jean Lagerquist, Martha Cole, Mary Fay and Sara Johnson and Phyllis Jane's cousin, Chuckie Parrett.

Double Birthday Party

courage a building up of the food animal populations, as well as that of poultry.

But Bullis points out that it takes time to build up the herds and flocks, and meat prices can not be expected to drop substantially until that is done.

Bullis is anxious to see the world food market stabilized for the sake of both the industry and its customers. But he is opposed to the Five-Year International Wheat Agreement proposed by President Truman for three reasons:

First, because Russia and Argentina, among the world's greatest wheat growers, are not parties to the proposed agreement.

Second, because the plan involves price-fixing.

Third, because he is doubtful whether it would stabilize prices in this country.

ley Rushford, whose birthdays occur in October, entertained their friends Saturday at their home. Emily is eight years old and Mary is six. Games were played and a lunch served with the centerpiece a birthday cake with fourteen candles. At the party were Emily and Mary's cousins, Judy Boyer and Anthony Cavill, and Helen Cristoff, Gail Columb, Derrel Nelson, Margaret Larson, Janet Lee and Mary Margaret Anderson, Katherine Wilbee, Dennis Callagan, Martha Cole and the girls' brother, Billy.

Smear Tournament

Walter Cole Post, American Legion, will sponsor another series of smear games during the winter months at the Legion hall. Play will be held every Wednesday beginning at 7:30 p. m. Anyone interested in playing as an individual or on a team is invited. Lunch will be served after the games. The winning team for the season will receive an award.

Personals

MEA OPPOSES PROPOSAL 2

But Favors Proposal 5 In Election

Proposals No. 2 and 5 which will appear on the election ballot Nov. 2 are regarded as of vital importance to Michigan school children by the Escanaba unit of the Michigan Education association.

According to Donald H. McKie, president of the local MEA, proposal No. 2 seeks to take away some of the school support which is now guaranteed by the constitution.

Quoting from an article written by A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the M. E. A., Mr. McKie said:

"Prior to the election of Nov. 1946, opponents of the sales tax diversion amendment made three predictions which have not come true."

"Their first prophecy was that all new building construction at state institutions would stop for at least 15 years. Yet during the past five years, including the present fiscal year, the state has appropriated $64,400,000 for state institutional buildings. Of this amount, $23,600,000 was appropriated for 1947-48. Therefore the state building program has not suffered because of the sales tax diversion amendment."

"The second prediction was that the general fund of the state would show a deficit in 1947-48 and each year thereafter. Estimates made on state deficits during the 1947 session of the legislature ranged from $45,000,000 to $95,000,000. In 1943-44 there was a balance on hand of $6,300,000 in the general fund and this balance has increased steadily until in 1947-48, the balance on hand in the General Fund was $26,000,000. Instead of a deficit of $95,000,000 as predicted, there was a surplus of $26,000,000."

"Predictions also have been made that at the close of the 1947-48 fiscal year, the deficit would be $14,000,000. This has since been reduced to a deficit of $5,000,000 through a transfer of $9,000,000 after July 1 from the funds of the Liquor Commission to the general fund of the state. On Sept. 28, it was reported that an additional $3,500,000 had been found thus reducing the deficit estimate to $1,500,000."

"The third prophecy was that state employees would receive no salary increases for three to five years. Yet, since the sales tax diversion amendment was passed, all state employees under Civil Service have had their regular raises each six months and an additional cost-of-living increase in January, 1948."

"Proposal No. 5 seeks to modify the 15-mill limitation to permit increases in tax limitations for a period not to exceed 20 years. Under the present restriction, five years is the limit for increasing millages. The proposed constitutional change also would permit millage increases by a majority rather than a two-thirds vote of the electors."

"The above changes would help poorer school districts provide needed school buildings over a longer period of time and at a lower yearly tax rate. Two years ago a survey was made and that time the emergency school con-

Want To Join Our Club?

Newcomers to our town are puzzled when they hear talk of "The Barbecue Club." Want to know who can join, and what the purpose is.

Well, the answer is: any one can join who's neighborly inclined. The purpose is simply to enjoy good food, good beer and ale, good conversation—all towards getting to know one another better.

Every other Saturday, at one farm or another, the pit is dug, and the fire started. And by sundown, neighbors from miles around have come together—the women contributing cakes, pies, and coffee, the men contributing the meat for barbecuing, and the beer or ale.

From where I sit, it's this simple wholesome side of country life in America—that makes for tolerance and better understanding between neighbors.

As I say, Neighbor, any one can join up! So come along a week from this Saturday.

Snavely and Neyland Are Fugitives From 'Dipsy-Do' Football

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 27 (AP)—If it's power football you like, then the North Carolina-Tennessee game here Saturday is your dish.

Carolina's Carl Snaveley and Tennessee's Bob Neyland are two of the strongest holdouts in the coaching fraternity against the "T" and other varieties of dipsy-do gridiron magic.

Both these veterans of many football campaigns use the single-wing attack. Their systems vary, of course, but the emphasis is on sock-'em-and-run-over-'em rather than on fancy ball-handling and tricky stuff.

Neuyland uses a balanced line with his single-wing; Snaveley employs an unbalanced line.

Packages From America Delight Swedish Folks

By Mrs. Herman G. Nelson
Stockholm, Sweden (By Air-mail)—It is thrilling to open a package when it comes from America. Now that I am on the receiving end, I can appreciate more than ever what it means for families in Sweden, Finland and elsewhere in Europe to be remembered by relatives and friends with packages of food. Some of the items may cost very little at home, but over here they are priceless and the subject of much talk. Often they are treasured on the pantry shelves and used for some special occasion.

The Swedish-American line is now making it easier to send packages to Sweden. They assure the sender there will be no delay either in New York or in Gothenburg, but that the package will be sent directly to the homes in Sweden on its arrival here. Otherwise, at Christmas time especially, there is considerable delay in inspection of packages from America at customs. Thousands of packages intended for Christmas last year were not delivered until weeks after the holidays. The packages I have received have been only a month enroute, which is considered excellent.

On Oct. 13 I listened to a touching program over the Swedish radio. It consisted of interviews with Finnish children who have been given care in homes of Sweden. Many have been returned to their real homes in Finland but 17,000 are reported to be in Sweden yet. An exchange is now being worked out so that these children can live part of the year in their own homes in Finland and spend part of the year with their so-called foster parents in Sweden. A wonderful arrangement.

Most of the children who have gone back to Finland have been able to adjust themselves in spite of the poorer conditions which exist in their own homes. The Swedish people think of these Finnish children as their own, and therefore they want them back for part of each year.

To my great surprise, I received my election ballot of Nov. 2 by airmail. It had cost $1.05 to send it via airmail. So although I am living here in Stockholm, I shall be casting my ballot absentee and have it counted with all the others on election day Nov. 2.

When we were guests at dinner Sunday, Oct. 10, at the home of Mrs. Majla Carlquist, leader of Sofia Flickorna, we saw movies of the baptism of her grandchild. It was when Mrs. Carlquist was in Escanaba that I delivered to her a radiogram informing her that she had become grandmother. She almost danced on Ludington street, she was so happy at the time.

The weather in Stockholm during October has resembled our Indian summer in America. Here they call it "Britt-sommar" because they say it always comes around Oct. 7, which is Birgitta day. Birgitta was canonized a saint by the Catholic church and her memory is highly regarded in Sweden.

Ruth Mae and Margaret are quickly learning Swedish and they use it almost exclusively in conversing with their playmates and schoolmates. The Swedish school studies are exacting and many. The girls, for instance, are studying the following subjects in school: Swedish (3 periods a week); chemistry, 3 periods; English, 3 periods; gymnastics, 3 periods; French, 4 periods; mathematics, 3 periods; geography, 2 periods; biology (botany) 2 periods; physics, 2 periods; Christianity, 2 periods; history, 3 periods; music, 1 period; manual arts, 3 periods; home economics, they call it school kitchen, 4 periods; and drawing, 2 periods.

In home economics, boys and girls in each class are divided into groups of five or six pupils and each group makes a complete lunch. All join in serving and eating the meal and cleaning up, even to scrubbing the floors.

The girls study French in Swedish, which makes it doubly hard. Recently four Estonian girls joined the same class as Margaret's. They had left Estonia because of war conditions there. There are thousands of Estonians now in Sweden. These girls have been in Sweden four years and they use the Swedish language except when they speak among themselves. They can speak English, German, Swedish, Estonian and they are now studying French. One girl says she can say at least one sentence in 12 different languages.

Ruth Mae had an opportunity to talking about American life in her English class. She found the other pupils firing a round of questions at her but she said she thought it was fun.

The Swedish students are interested in everything from America and so are their teachers.

Twenty rationings have so far been abolished in Sweden, the last one being the rationing of flour and bread. Still rationed are coffee, sugar, syrup, edible fats and soap flakes. What the Swedish people appreciate most of all from America are coffee, rice, dried fruit and cinnamon for the "Jul-grot" or rice. A pound of rice over here is prized as if it were worth its weight in gold. Nylons are also prized highly, since they can no longer be bought in Swedish stores. A year ago the supply was plentiful but now they are not to be found.

Bay City Girl
Is the Bride Of Freidolph Olson

Rapid River — In a picturesque setting of white chrysanthemums and an abundance of green, banking the fireplace in her mother's Niumi Court home in Bay City, Miss Jean Anne Kerr became the bride of Freidolph K. Olson of Rapid River Saturday afternoon.

Wrought iron candelabra holding slender white tapers were placed on the mantel for the rites led by Dr. Frederick A. Roblee. The 4 o'clock candlelight ceremony was attended by 125 guests.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. John M. Kerr and the late Mr. Kerr and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olson of Rapid River.

Lohengrin's wedding march was provided in continuous recorded organ music during the ceremony.

For her wedding Miss Kerr chose a white tulle faille princess styled gown designed with a modified sweetheart neckline edged in Burgess lace dothed with seed pearls. The gown had wrist point sleeves and a small folded bustle which extended into a full swing skirt. Her illusion net fingertip veil was fastened to a Juliet cap edged in braided tulle satin with clusters of seed pearls on the side. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of spider mums tied with white satin ribbon. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William R. Kerr.

Emerald Green Gowns

Mrs. William S. Reed of Detroit, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Mrs. Earle Schumacher of Ann Arbor former roommate of Miss Kerr at the University of Michigan, served as bridesmaid. The attendants' gowns were of emerald green tulle faille and were fashioned with short sleeves, modified sweetheart necklines and hip detail styled to form small bustles. The simple lines of the gowns were accented by cascade bouquets of deep bronze daisy mums tied with matching satin ribbon.

Ralph Petersen of Downers Grove, Ill., a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kerr chose a simple pearl grey crepe afternoon dress fashioned with a jewel neckline and long sleeves. Satin of a slightly darker grey trimmed the dress. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a royal blue crepe afternoon dress with a draped skirt, long sleeves and high neckline accented with folded crepe. Both mothers had corsages of two cymidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held honoring the couple. The buffet table was centered with an arrangement of white spider mums and white tapers in crystal holders, complemented with swan-soria baby mums and greens. Tiny yellow sweetheart rosebuds topped a three-tiered wedding cake which was placed on an Italian cutwork cloth on a side table. Smilax surrounded the cake and provided a setting for the rose nosegay.

Trip Through Peninsula
When Mr. and Mrs. Olson left on their wedding trip through northern Michigan the bride was wearing a three-piece Scotch tweed suit and a matching cloche with multicolored feathers. With her costume she wore brown alligator shoes and carried a matching purse.

The bride is a graduate of Bay City high school and the University of Michigan. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rapid River high school and Northwestern university. He is a veteran of World War II.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olson, Miss Eileen Johnson, Alyce Holmgren and Mrs. Ole Wickstrom of Rapid River.

Preceding the wedding ceremony Mrs. Anne Ross Carlisle, aunt of the bride, gave a rehearsal luncheon at her home for members of the immediate families and the bridal party and Mrs. Kerr presided at a rehearsal dinner the evening before at the Bay City club.

Frail Wife Freed
In Husband Killing,
Faces New Charge

Philadelphia, (AP)—Frail, brown haired Mrs. Cecilia Atella was acquitted by a jury of 11 women and one man of murder charges in the shooting of her bank guard husband, Ernest.

The 23-year-old Mrs. Atella sat calmly by Monday while assistant attorney Raymond A. Speiser, obviously angered by the jury's verdict, polled the panel members individually following announcement of her acquittal.

Speiser then announced he would prosecute a further charge of involuntary manslaughter against the defendant.

Mrs. Atella, who was remanded to the county jail pending trial of the manslaughter charge, said the shooting occurred after she and her husband quarreled when he insisted they live with his mother if they were going to live together at all.

A total of 10,617 locker plants were in operation in the U. S. as of July, 1948, reports the Department of Agriculture.

Series of Parties
For Hospital Beds
Is Planned Here

During the coming months members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Canton Hiawatha will sponsor a series of grocery parties to enable them to provide hospital beds, wheelchairs and sick room equipment.

The first party will be held at the Odd Fellows hall at 8 p. m., Friday, it was announced today by Mrs. Howard E. Plucker, president of the auxiliary and secretary of the hospital committee.

"There is a great need for hospital beds and wheelchairs, and though we continually add more, we never seem to have a sufficient number for needy people," the president said, urging support of the parties.

OLDER BOYS CONFAB NOV. 5

Sponsors Wanted For Local Youths

How many Manistique boys will be able to go to the Upper Peninsula Older Boys Conference this year? That is the question Carl Olson, local chairman of the conference would like to have answered by Friday.

These trips are made possible by donations of local firms, lodges, service clubs and residents, it having been the practice in the past for each donor to give an amount that would insure one boy's trip and expenses. In this case it would be $7 per boy. Last year twenty-four boys made the trip.

This conference, which will be held Nov. 5 and 6 at Iron Mountain with Kingsford joint host is for selected high school boys of proven ability and character. The purpose of the conference is to help boys in their thinking on problems that are typically theirs and challenge them to accept Christian leadership for their time.

The theme of the conference is "Dynamic Leadership for an Atomic Age." Mr. Olson admits that this is "pretty lofty," but explains that it will be translated to the high school boy level by the guest speaker, Dr. Frank D. Slutz, of Dayton, Ohio, who is no stranger to Upper Peninsula conferences nor to the Schoolcraft area. George W. Campbell, one of America's great song leaders will also be present. Cliff Drury, of Lansing, recognized leader in Hi-Y activities will also be one of the guiding spirits at the conference.

The fee of $7 includes everything, program, group meals, banquet and transportation. Names of boys who plan to go should be registered with Mr. Olson by next Friday.

Music Groups Of High School Here Plan Concert

The music department of Manistique High School will present the first of three concerts for the season on the evening of Friday, November 12. Both the high school bands and the high school choir will participate.

Added interest in the concert may be derived from the fact that the Junior Band, an organization made up of beginners, most of the grade school students, will appear in their first formal concert.

The personnel of the two bands follow:

Junior Band

VOTE ON FUND FOR NEW GYM

Doyle Voters Will Pass
On Proposal

Voters in Doyle township will be called upon to consider an extra ballot in the coming election on November 2. They will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on the following proposal: "Shall the Doyle Township Board set aside in a building fund the sum of $4,000.00 for the purpose of assisting the Doyle Township School Board in the building of an auditorium or gymnasium on the Whitdale school."

All plans have been developed through a representative group covering all interests in the township. This group has taken into account not only the possibilities from the standpoint of the schools, but also with a view of making the improvement serve the public for such purposes as village township meetings, farm group meetings, 4-H clubs, veteran organizations and other community groups.

The laws of Michigan, spokesmen for the move explain, allow any taxing body to appropriate money for recreation purposes and the idea in this case is to use chiefly funds coming to the township through sales tax fund diversion. By this means the money coming to the township from this source can be used from year to year to take care of the money required for construction and upkeep.

According to plans there will be club rooms, kitchen, craft rooms for use by the school and other facilities designed to serve both school and community needs.

Council Orders Work Begun On Elm Street Sewer

An order to begin work at once on the Elm street sewer was voted by the city council at its regular meeting Monday evening. This order brings into effect a matter which has been hanging on fire for more than three years. The problem has been a bit more complicated than the construction of an ordinary sewer because the street to be served is lower than the North Cedar street sewer into which the sewage is to flow and for that reason a lift pump will have to be installed. Delay in securing necessary equipment has held up the project. Twelve families will be served by this sewer.

The council members again discussed the proposal to install parking meters in the city, but came to no decision. A representative of a meter manufacturing firm was present at the meeting and discussed the merits of his particular product.

Bids for a pump to be installed at the Fairview cemetery were opened, but the council decided to wait until more were offered for consideration. Here were but three bids offered.

The council authorized the fire chief to purchase a quantity of 1½ inch hose, leaving it to his discretion to purchase what he deemed the best suited to the department's needs.

During fasting or starvation, non-essential tissues break down much more quickly than essential ones.

3 Concerts Planned For Winter Series

Munising—The newly formed Munising Community Concert Association brought its drive for memberships to a successful conclusion Saturday evening. During the fall and winter three concerts will be given in the Mather high school auditorium.

First to appear in November will be Solveig Lund, pianist, whose New York recitals together with her radio performances have received high praise from critics. She has been a soloist with leading orchestras including the San Francisco Symphony under Montoux.

James Pease, baritone, will give the second concert during January. Pease is a grand opera and concert favorite and a star of the New York Opera company and Koussevitzky's successive choice as soloist of the Berkshire Festival.

The final program will be given by Joseph Fuchs, violinist, in March. Mr. Fuchs has appeared with most major symphony orchestras including re-engagements with the New York Philharmonic Symphony. The World Telegram labels him "A top-drawer violinist."

Exact dates for each performance will be announced later by the committee.

ALL OUT FOR HALLOWE'EN

THERE are more ways of stopping Hallowe'en hooliganism than by yelling for cops. At Anaheim, in southern California's orange belt, they keep the kids out of mischief with a Hallowe'en festival.

Inaugurated 24 years ago, the project has become a city-wide holiday for young and old. Schools are closed, stores locked up, and everyone is encouraged to don old fashioned or western costumes for a day of fun. There are parades, costume and whisker contests, a vaudeville show in a city park, various laugh-provoking stunts and finally an evening capped by a grand parade, horse show and football game.

The festival's sponsors reported last year that not a single act of mischief was reported in the city on Hallowe'en. Here's how the festival is conducted.

LAUGH, KIDS, LAUGH! Several thousand children, many of them in costume, and a sprinkling of adults, enjoy a clown's performance at the circus in city park.

NO BUSINESS! A merchant locks up his store to release his employees for celebrations.

WINNERS of the slick chick contest for teen-age girls ride decorated float in Grand Parade.

GRANDSTAND VIEW. Weary after day-long jollifications, these kiddies watch night parade.

"ARRESTED." Violators of dress edicts are hauled off to a kangaroo court.

Fire Truck Purchase Delayed By Commish

Seven bids on new fire fighting equipment were received and opened at Monday evening's meeting of the city commission but no action was taken pending further study of each individual offer.

STILL ON COMMISSION

Commissioner Frank Stupak, who with his family recently moved to Milwaukee where he plans to later enroll at Marquette University to study law, was not present at the meeting but is still a member of the city commission as he has not submitted a resignation. He will continue to be a member of the governing body until such time as he offers a resignation and it is formally accepted by the commission or until he misses a specified number of meetings without leave of absence, when, according to charter regulations the post would automatically become vacant.

Bids were as follows:
W. S. Darby, Chicago, in amount of $4,465.75 for equipment to be mounted on a truck of city's choosing.

General Fire Truck Corporation, Detroit, in amount of $8,- 227.00 for equipment without chassis.

The Peter Pirsch company submitted two bids: one of $14,500.00 for a custom built unit and another of $9,700.00 if the equipment was mounted on a common commercial chassis.

The Boyer Fire Apparatus, Logansport, Ind., in amount of $10,432.00 for truck mounted on Ford 2½ ton chassis.

The FWD of Clintonville asked $11,266 for a complete unit and the Mack company's bid was $10,963.00 for a completely equipped truck.

Ask Curfew

A delegation from the Parent-Teachers association was present and made a request for a curfew and its strict enforcement. The present curfew law, which has not been enforced, provides that children 14 years and under be off the streets nights by 9 o'clock.

The curfew requested by the PTA group called for raising of the age limit to 16 and the hour to 10 o'clock, except on weekends (Fridays and Saturdays) when it would be raised to 11, providing an extra hour. Operators of restaurants or amusement places would be called upon to cooperate in enforcing the regulations and police would be enjoined to strictly enforce the regulations in cases where children under 16 were found on the streets after hours.

Action on the matter was tabled for future consideration.

Enlarge Counting Boards

It was decided to place an extra person on the counting boards in each voting precinct at the coming general election. This will provide a daily board of four and a counting board of four with the board chairman serving on both in each of the four precincts. Extra booths to facilitate voting are also to be erected.

Voting booths for electors of the first and second wards will be in the council rooms on the second floor of the city hall. Voters of the third precinct will have their booths located on the first floor of the hall and 4th ward booths are to be in the recreation rooms in the basement.

Closing Saturday Up to Merchants

The Retail Merchants' Association in meeting Monday evening decided not to call for a general closing Saturday afternoon because of the Escanaba-Gladstone football game but to leave the question of closing up to each individual merchant.

The possibility of promoting some holiday merchandising plan was discussed as were tentative plans for a dinner for rural folks of this area.

Further discussion of both will be made at a second meeting to be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the city hall at which time a larger representation of merchants is looked for.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking our neighbors, friends and relatives who honored us during the celebration of our silver wedding anniversary. To all who honored us at this time, contributed to the purse of silver given us and for the many gifts presented us, we are deeply grateful. We will ever have pleasant memories of the occasion.

Signed:
Mr. and Mrs. Felix DeMay

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Felix DeMays Married 25 Years Ago Monday

Over one hundred persons, including neighbors, friends and relatives called at the Felix DeMay home on Sunday afternoon and evening to extend their best wishes to the DeMays who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on that day. The tiered wedding cake topped by a silver ornament with twenty-five years on it, centered the table.

On either side of the cake, were silver vases with white, pink and yellow mums. They received many gifts including a purse of silver. Mrs. DeMay wore a shoulder corsage of roses and baby mums.

On Monday morning a mass was said at 8 o'clock at All Saints church for the family, and their oldest son Peter, and youngest son Joseph, served during the Mass. As they were leaving the church the student choir sang, "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Out of town guests who attended were, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Rapid River; Mrs. Oliver Billings, daughter Shirley and son Neil of Schafter; Mrs. Louis Reese and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robbins, Iron Mountain, Mich.

Southernmost people in the world are the Yaghan Indians who live on the south coast of Tierra del Fuego in Argentina.

Make Preparations For Big Grid Game

Reserved seat tickets for the big game of the season, the wind-up between Escanaba and Gladstone here Saturday afternoon at Marble Athletic Field, are on sale at the Dehlin drug store and the high school here and at Gust Asp's in Escanaba.

Every seat in the stand on the west side of the field is being reserved, providing a seat within the 28-yard lines for anyone sitting in the stand.

Bleacher sections for students, one for Escanaba, the other for Gladstone are to be erected on the east side of the field. Bands will be seated on temporary bleachers on the east side, also. Only a limited number of autos will be allowed inside the fence enclosure, Supt. Wallace Cameron declared.

Volunteer firemen will assist in policing the event.

A big pep session is planned for Friday morning. Charles Burton is to be the speaker. Several special features are planned for the event.

Students to Hear Westminster Choir

Several busloads of Gladstone high school students are going to Escanaba this afternoon to hear the Westminster Choir at Oliver Memorial auditorium in a special students' concert. About 120 students of Gladstone high have signified their intentions of attending the musicale.

Salvation Army Meeting Thursday

The Salvation Army will conduct a public meeting at its Gladstone hall, 612 Delta avenue, Thursday evening, October 28, beginning at 8 o'clock. Lt. and Mrs. Carl Olson of Escanaba will conduct the service and there will be special music by the Escanaba string band. All are invited to attend.

Sheboygan Redskin Professional Exhibition Here Thursday Night

BRANNUM TO PLAY HERE—Subject of much discussion in the basketball world in recent seasons was big Bob Brannum, former all-American from the University of Kentucky who starred at Michigan State college last season. Brannum is a six-foot six-inch giant who plays the rugged, aggressive type of ball that should take him a long way in the pay-for-play ranks. In the 1943-44 season, he was named all-American at Kentucky. Then he entered military service. When he returned to the Kentucky campus some one else had his job on the Kentucky basketball team, so he transferred to Michigan State where he had a bangup season. Brannum is a tower of strength under the basket. He'll be seen in action in the Escanaba junior high school gym here tomorrow night against the Escanaba all-stars. The program gets underway at 8:15.

Sterope Is Winner In Cambridgeshire

Newmarket, England, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sterope, an outsider, won the Cambridgeshire stakes today from the top-weighted Royal Tara.

The nine furlong race, one of the biggest gambling events of the British turf, drew 32 runners. After a study of photographs it was announced that third place was a dead heat between Patchouly and Impeccable.

Just before the big race started it was announced that Brink, a long shot, had been withdrawn because his rider, Jack Carson, disclosed he had been given a sweepstakes ticket which stood to earn him 10,000 pounds ($40,000) if Wisley, a rival horse, won.

Meyer of Pirates 'Manager of Year'
New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—William Adam (Bill) Meyer today was voted the "manager of the year" in a nation-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The 56-year-old freshman pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out Billy Southworth, leader of the National League champion Boston Braves in a neck and neck race. Meyer received 89 votes to 87 for the veteran World Series campaigner.

"It Seems To Me"

BY IIM WARD

One of the interesting aspects of the appearance in Escanaba tomorrow evening of the National Professional Basketball league squad, the Sheboygan Redskins, is the fact, stated frankly by Playing Coach Kenny Suesens, that all positions are wide open.

The players will be battling to make the team, the starting five, and that means Escanaba basketball fans probably will see professional basketball at its best.

At least, they'll see plenty of hustle because these fellows are playing for pay, and they're going to give plenty to make that starting five. The Redskins begin league play against the Denver Nuggets next week.

So the arrangement is this: A tentative starting five supplemented by substitutes here and there will battle the Escanaba all-stars the first half, and the second half the boys will take their hair down and battle each other. Coach Suesens has a 12-man squad and two sets of uniforms, and he's going to have his eyes open for his best possible combination during that last half.

And if you're looking for an individual duel for a starting position, you might keep your eyes peeled on the comparative work of the much-publicized Bob Brannum of Kentucky and Michigan State and Milton Schoon of Valparaiso university.

The Redskins' elongated center star of 11 years, Eddie Dancker, has retired, and six-foot six-inch Brannum and six-foot seven-inch Schoon are fighting it out to see which will step into Dancker's shoes. Schoon comes to Sheboygan from the disbanded Dow Chemicals.

Now-we-know item—If you can't hit a golf ball at 100 yards with a rifle bullet or a baseball at 50 yards with a pistol shot, you haven't any business entering the national rifle and pistol championship at Quantico, Va. . . . That information comes straight from the National Rifle association . . . And the next time you go to Detroit be sure to give a Detroit policeman by the name of Harry Reeves plenty of room . . . Reeves enforced the finals of the national rifle-pistol meet today with a six-point lead over his nearest opponent, the defending champion Sgt. Huelet Brenner, of Fort Knox, Ky.

Cuff Notes: Some consolation for Soo last Saturday is the fact it scored more points against Menominee than had been scored against the Maroons in U. P. competition all season . . . Menominee won, 39-19 . . . The Maroons had 13 points scored against them up to that game . . . Escanaba tallied 12 of them . . . Wakefield beat Hancock, 53-0, to boost its total score to an amazing 312 points in eight games, an average of nearly 40 points per game . . . Negaunee played eight games this season and wound up all square with the board . . . Four wins, four losses and 77 points to opponents' 77 points.

Munising is the only undefeated high school team in the Upper Peninsula . . . Menominee unbeaten in U. P. competition but was downed by Madison Edgewood . . . Only blot on Munising's record was a surprising scoreless tie with Stephenson.

Guerre TD Run Not Marred By Clipping, Spartan Films Show

East Lansing, Oct. 25 (AP)—While preparing for the football game with Oregon State Saturday, Michigan State coaches also looked back on the Penn State game of last weekend.

Their interest was centered on films of the 14-14 tie game with the champions of the east—particularly on the footage that showed George Guerre's 99-yard run for a touchdown that was not allowed.

The run was called back when field judge Karl Bohren said he saw a Spartan player clipping.

"The films prove conclusively that there was no clipping," said head coach Biggie Munn. "All of them were good clean blocks. If any of those blocks were clipping, then every block in the game was clipping."

Munn climbed his observation platform to superintend the offensive drill of his team Tuesday. Every other play called had a pass in it as Munn endeavored to sharpen his aerial attack.

End Warren Huey, who has been an in-again out-again hospital patient with a leg injury, watched from the sidelines and it was indicated he will make the trip when the Spartans board their plane for the west coast Thursday morning.

The only scrimmage session of the week was planned for this afternoon as the coaches have been resting the regulars after the bruising battle with Penn State.

Buckeyes Leading Big 9 in Offense

Chicago, Oct. 27 (AP)—Ohio State, which faces Northwestern in this week's top Big Nine football attraction, has replaced unbeaten Michigan as the Conference's No. 1 offensive unit.

The Buckeyes are ahead in first downs with a 16 average per game, in total yards gained with 306.6 and rank third on number of points scored behind Michigan and Wisconsin.

Ohio State has a 196.3 yard rushing average per game and 110.3 yards passing. Wisconsin is tops in rushing with 225.3 while Michigan leads in passing with 169.3 on a .500 completion record.

THREE-IN-ONE SHOT—Statuesque in appearance is this (camera) shot of Charles Hirn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hirn, 924 Seventh avenue South, Escanaba, but the shot that made this picture possible was the three-in-one shot fired by Hunter Hirn. Hunting from a duck blind off the south shore of Lake Michigan, just south of Escanaba's South Park, young Hirn spotted some geese. He fired two shots and nothing happened. He was beginning to worry when he cut loose with the third shot. But his worries were at an end. The third shot brought down three geese. He is shown here holding the hapless trio. "They tasted just like chicken," Charley said. It was the first time young Hirn had ever shot a goose and only his second year of hunting.

Nevada Leads Nation In Passing And Total Offense; Heath Does It

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—California, Notre Dame and Army have strengthened their positions among the leading offensive teams on the nation's collegiate gridirons but they still have a long way to go if they are to overtake high-flying Nevada.

The Nevada wolfpack, with the help of a great passer and a so-so schedule, rolled merrily along at the head of the offensive standings released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, leading all other teams in both forward passing and total offense.

Clinging to second place in the ratings based on both rushing and passing was little Miami university of Oxford, Ohio, unbeaten but once-tied. And following them in order were California, Notre Dame and Army—all moving up a notch from the previous week.

Nevada maintained its lofty position on the spectacular passing of Stan Heath, who is virtually certain to rewrite the record books with his aerial game before the season ends.

In winning all five of its games to date, Nevada has piled up 2,940 yards by rushing and passing, an average of 498 yards per game. Of that total, 1,439 of Nevada's yards have come through the air. Miami has averaged 422.6 yards per game, California 401, Notre Dame 395.2 and Army 389.

A pair of noticeable absentees in the top 15 offensive teams are Michigan and North Carolina, ranked first and third in the Associated Press weekly poll. Michigan was the offensive leader in the country last year. At this point in the 1947 season, the Wolverines were averaging 436.6 yards per game. To date this season they have averaged 286.4, although their won-lost record is the same.

Nevada is followed in the passing department by Georgia Tech, William and Mary, Columbia and Navy. But Georgia Tech's average of 190.6 yards per game is far behind the Nevada average of 298.3.

The wolfpack not only is the passingest team in the country, but its 65-14 shellacking of Tulsa last Saturday set a new high in aerial performance. Together, the two teams threw 81 passes, a new college record for a single game.

Nevada's total of 25 completed passes also was a new mark, as was the total of 44 completions by two teams.
